33 Poems on Nature That Honor the Natural World

For Una by Robinson Jeffers I I built her a tower when I was young— Sometime she will die— I built it with my hands, I hung Stones in the sky. In other words, when you read it, it just feels right, it expresses what you already feel. Please share and spread the love! Pick any of these short funeral poems to inspire and move the audience at a funeral.

Appreciation Poems

Mad Ireland hurt you into poetry. I had no thought of violets of late, The wild, shy kind that spring beneath your feet In wistful April days, when lovers mate And wander through the fields in raptures sweet.

A Year of Living Poetically

But it was there then, In front of me, Bright like a sun— My dream.

35 Love Poems for Her

You hold his horde of fiends in thrall, A queen you reign, And walk in shadows where they fall, By night, Allayne.

12 Poems About Life For a Beautiful Life Well

Now Ireland has her madness and her weather still, For poetry makes nothing happen: it survives In the valley of its making where executives Would never want to tamper, flows on south From ranches of isolation and the busy griefs, Raw towns that we believe and die in; it survives, A way of happening, a mouth. This poem calls out for you to endure, keep going through, and rise above the adversity you will face.
