Train the Trainer

Train the trainer courses can vary in length, scope, and design, though we hope you can take some inspiration from seeing a full intensive train the trainer course and build a program suitable for your needs. I was reassured by all the Covid precautions which were in place and I felt totally safe throughout the day.

Train the Trainer Online Class

We create a modified detailed outline and agenda and review with the person responsible.

Venepuncture, Phlebotomy & Cannulation Training

These are key principles that should always be kept in mind when designing training sessions, so getting these clarified early in the training program gives a useful reference point. While they facilitate, they should apply the various facilitation techniques they have learned. If you are a phlebotomy student and want to gain hands-on experience then you can contact local healthcare organisations to see if they offer work placements.

Train the Trainer training courses

This is the main assignment of the course, and completing it will provide your participants with a sense of accomplishment and closing.

Train the Trainer Training Seminar

We also travel to Africa, Australia and New Zealand, Asia, Canada, Central America, Continental Europe, the Middle East, and the United Kingdom. Experiential learning and debriefing If you want participants to achieve long-lasting learning in any training event, then experiential learning is a very effective way to do that.
