

The old streets of San Francisco - early street names on some brass tokens

Pacific Coast Numismatic Society - San Francisco cable car system

Description: Brief histories of 13 San Francisco streets with emphasis on certain businesses identified through their tokens.

-

San Francisco (Calif.) -- History.

Tokens -- California -- San Francisco.

Street names -- California -- San Francisco -- History. The old streets of San Francisco - early street names on some brass tokens

-

PCNS Monograph -- no. 1 The old streets of San Francisco - early street names on some brass tokens

Notes: Includes bibliographical references (p. 41).

This edition was published in 1993

Filesize: 55.96 MB

Tags: #G. #Harvey

Juney Ellis

From the collection of Bob Bragman 35 of 74 This postcard shows the flower market near the Chronicle Building, before the 1906 San Francisco earthquake and fire, which destroyed it.

Buried Treasure: San Francisco's Waterfront is Built on Gold Rush Ghost Ships

And Vivienne Maricevic was privileged to record the phenomenon with her photographs.

San Francisco cable car system

Most recently, the restaurant was run by a partnership of Nunzio Alioto, grandson of the original Nunzio, and his cousin, Joseph Alioto, backed by 37 relatives as shareholders. One of my earliest photographs, the Lawrence Hotel at sunset became the poster for my first solo exhibit—on Sixth Street, of course. The History of Streetcars - Cable Cars.

G. Harvey

This restaurant was a symbol of hope after the destruction of much of Chinatown during the 1906 earthquake. This is a very dynamic Peña club and they organize many activities and events in their neighborhood.

Related Books

- Castro y las guerrillas en Latinoamérica
- Ælfrics Colloquy
- Future of natural fibres - papers presented at a Shirley Institute Conference on 29-30 November 1977
- Chaetognatha and other zooplankton of the Scottish area and their value as biological indicators of h
- Our faith in evil - melodrama and the effects of entertainment violence