Introduction to the Life and Works of Rizal

For it is not only that the vanity, futility, pointlessness and true meaningless of the unbeliever's life is turned completely upside-down by our reception of eternal life through faith in Jesus Christ, but we are also ushered into a new sphere of life, where our joy as believers has the potential of outshining any happiness the unbeliever has ever imagined.

Writing Introductions: How to Write Introductions for Your Articles (with examples!)

Material prosperity, even when it truly originates from God, is a far cry from true spiritual wealth, and can very easily induce a false sense of spiritual security. Affluence, however, is not spirituality. In His grace, God has always made the light of truth visible and available to mankind, even in the midst of Satan's light-less world, and this light of truth has always been embodied in His Son: John 1:4-5 Jesus Christ is the true light of the world, the embodiment of all truth, the living Word of God, the One who illuminates the sinful darkness with blinding, holy light.

Daniel: On the Way to the Future

Several sentences make a paragraph and several paragraphs make a Composition. A process of inviting truth and possibility.

Future: "Will"

God graciously constructed the necessary test of their obedience in such a way that disobedience would provide them with this essential internal compass, a mechanism without which moral navigation through a satanic world would be impossible, especially for persons in a sinful state. Ecclesiastes 3:10-11 Cognizance of God, cognizance of the ephemeral nature of life a sure indication of the sin for which mortality is the judgment, and cognizance of, even a yearning for eternity in the hearts of us all, are a combination of blessings to which the whole human race is heir, the proper response to which will ever lead us to God and the immortality we crave through the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ. For official or formal announcements concerning future events The graduation dinner will take place on June 3rd of this year.
