How, for example, can Labour's John McDonnell seriously think that Marx, a man born in 1818, has the answers to the problems confronting Britain in 2018? The basic argument starts from the assumption that to be of any use a blueprint must facilitate the construction of a future socialist society.

Karl Marx, the founder of communism, is one of the most influential thinkers of all time — his memory revered by some and loathed by others.

He was the most concerned with what is really possible in the real world. After developing an interest in religion, history, and philosophy, he enrolled at the University of Berlin. Cohen 1979, Wolff 1999, Vrousalis 2013.

Karl Marx

It is hard to disagree with the judgement that Marx thinks that the capitalist exploitation of labor power is a wrong that has horrendous consequences for the laborers. Joseph Stalin Joseph Stalin was a 20th century Russian political and revolutionary leader and was the face of the Soviet Union during the Second World War as well as the Cold War.

Communism: Karl Marx to Joseph Stalin

Marx wanted to distance himself from these other socialist traditions, and a key point of distinction was to argue that the route to understanding the possibilities of human emancipation lay in the analysis of historical and social forces, not in morality. Karl Marx was born in 1818 in Trier, Germany. Following this revolution, a new classless Communist society would appear.
