

Georgia Employment Security Law

LexisNexis - GA

Have already completed an Applicant Status Affidavit, you will not be required to complete the process again as this is a one-time requirement. However, each time a non-citizen files a claim for any type of UI benefits, Employment Authorization Documents (EADs) to complete the affidavit process may result in a delay or denial of benefits. You must indicate acknowledgement of the affidavit requirement before proceeding to the application.

Applicant Status Affidavit Acknowledgement

I have read the above information and I understand if I am 18 years of age or older, Georgia law requires that I complete an Applicant Status Affidavit. I understand if I do not complete this affidavit, no unemployment benefits can be paid.

Security of your information
