Support for Forgotten Australians

Writing for National Review in March, the conservative provocateur Kevin Williamson shoveled scorn on the low-income white Republican voters who, as he saw it, were most responsible for the rise of Trump: Nothing happened to them.

Care for the Elderly in Cuba

By the 1950s, concerns about the level of care children were receiving in institutions led to the closing down of some larger orphanages and children's homes and a move towards group care in smaller cottage and. Some chose to place their children in a home so that they could at least have some contact with them.

The forgotten plight of Native Americans

We take a look at why young people are particularly at risk of homelessness and the measures that could be taken to prevent this from happening. He is available to speak at diocesan or parish gatherings about Catholic social teaching.

Black carers

What has not yet emerged is whether she had been issued with adequate PPE and, crucially, how many people she had visited and may have infected. Defend the cause of the fatherless, plead the case of the widow. At another point, she asked him to pee into a cup so she could use his urine to pass a drug test.

Why The Nicest People Have Suffered The Most Damage In Life

Psychiatric Annals, 14 1, 19—24. The resulting report the 'Mullighan Report' noted that 792 people made allegations of abuse by 1,733 perpetrators and that 'Using available records, the inquiry found that 242 people — 124 males and 118 females — were children in State care at the time of the alleged abuse'.

Care for the Elderly in Lebanon: two case studies

Vance and his older sister were raised amid an extreme form of the instability and dysfunction that Charles Murray and Robert Putnam lament: He grew up with three stepfathers, and during one two-year stretch he lived in four houses.

Care for the Elderly in Cuba

Exercise promotes better sleep, reduces tension and depression, and increases energy and alertness. I have informally asked scores of people whether they would want their children to care for them as they age. This is because many of them will have similar roles and functions, this allows them to fuse together permanently integrate relatively easily.
