How to Time Your Wedding Ceremony to Coincide with Sunset

Use a Wide Aperture for Portraits Most people agree that warm, golden hour light is the most flattering natural light for portrait photography. We can still get beautiful sunset images with an iPhone or an Android smartphone. The sun is low in the sky during these hours and more diffuse and redder than normal thanks to having to be filtered for a greater distance through the atmosphere.

Stopping Sequence an hour before sunset

You need the light to be seen. Sun is low in the sky, introducing it in your frame can give you stunning results. If left on AWB, your images may end up far more blue than you want them.
