Towards Religious Equality for Catholic Pauper Children, 1861

That the children were presented en masse as objects of pity is undeniable, but their personal happiness, behaviour and comfort were also concerns that were recorded in the sources. Although older children were attending school at this time, there was no poor law help with child care available to enable mothers with younger children to work and be self-supporting.

Robert E. Belding, Alert! The pauper scholars are here!

The version which ultimately passed had already been crafted by the Senate Judiciary Committee. As the school was failing, Stevens got voters to agree to pay its debt, allowing it to be sold as a Lutheran seminary. The establishment of large district and separate schools was celebrated as an innovation in child welfare.
