The maximum interruption in chest compression to give two breaths should not exceed 10 seconds.

Importance of Basic Life Support

This procedure can prove to be very helpful when it comes to saving the life of an individual.

What is BLS?

Understanding Your Values Similar to understanding your mission, understanding your values and refusing to compromise on them will give you guidance through any decision. Being able to unplug and entertain yourself without technology or even without the use of lights, television sets, and the stove is a skill, which at the very least will get you and your family through the next power outage, and at best, will help you communicate better and get away from your cell phones once in a while.
