Lamp for the Path to Enlightenment—Second Day

His Holiness the Dalai Lama gives a commentary on Lamp of the Path, Atisha's revolutionary work and Lines of Experience, a short text written by the Tibetan scholar Lama Tsong Khapa. So, the conventional truth of the everyday world should not be subjected to thorough analysis.

Lamrim Texts

But this is illogical, so no real entities exist—that is, say, by virtue of their inherent characteristics—and we must never uphold such a notion of inherent arising. There is so much we don't know about ourselves and the working of our own mind, let alone about others, their needs and their capacities.

Atisha's Lamp for the Path to Enlightenment

However, if there is not the self-recognition of primordial wisdom which is our rigpa, then it cannot count as the main meditation practice of Dzogchen. Atisha's most ebook text, Lamp for the Path to Ebook, sets forth the entire Buddhist path within the framework of three levels of motivation on the part of the practitioner.

Library of Tibetan Works and Archives. This book is dedicated to our Gurus HH Dalai Lama, Kyabje Lama Zopa Rinpoche, Khenrinpoche Lhundrup Rigsel and Geshe Tenzin Zopa who are our lamps for the path to enlightenment, without whom we would be living meaningless lives that merely exhaust whatever positive karma we have.

Atisha's Lamp for the Path to Enlightenment

. Atisha's text thus became the source of the lamrim tradition, or graduated stages of the path to enlightenment, an approach to spiritual practice incorporated.
