Year of Faith Retreat

Across the country, countless local communities of faith are serving those in need, working for justice, and sharing our social teaching as never before. Without worship, we easily veer off path, often unknowingly sliding into patterns of life that take us away from loving God and neighbor and, instead, keeping us focused on ourselves. Priests should not and need not impose an agenda on the liturgy to preach about justice.

Send us an email at. On the other hand, worship that does not reflect the Lord's call to conversion, service, and justice can become pious ritual and empty of the gospel.

The Worshipping Assembly at Mass

But in some parishes the social justice dimensions of parish life are still neglected, underdeveloped, or touch only a few parishioners. Many who sought help wanted to work, but could not find jobs.

Lisa's Liturgies

A significant challenge is to avoid divisiveness; to emphasize the common ground among social service and social action, education and advocacy, pro-life and social justice, economic development and environmental commitment. Mary is a gooood Mother.

Last year the class, whose issue was homelessness, served food at a homeless shelter and assisted with a parish-sponsored sheltering program

Our tradition also calls us to show our respect for the Creator by our care for creation and our commitment to work for environmental justice.

Lisa's Liturgies

Eucharist, penance, confirmation, and the other sacraments have essential social dimensions that ought to be appropriately reflected in how we celebrate, preach, and pray. With support from Catholic Charities of Rockville Centre, parishioners established a job training and referral service.

Year of Faith Retreat

The liturgy is designed to bring about in all those who make up the worshipping assembly a participation of the faithful both in body and mind, a participation burning with faithful, hope, and charity no. The Catholic community has been making steady progress in this area. Every parish should regularly assess how well our social teaching is shared in its formation and educational ministries.
