Mandal Commission : Reservation for Backward Class

This is more so when ills spread over centuries are sought to be remedied It is not possible to remove the backlog in the representation at all levels of the administration in one generation. However, the mute silence of dalit leaders on the ongoing privatization or liberalization policy in which there is no reservation provided by the government so far can well put a big question mark on their becoming bulwark too. Their argument is further strengthened due to the existence of the creamy layer system, in which even well-off members of backward classes are entitled to the same amount of reserved seats that other members of their class hold.
