They work to alleviate the suffering experienced by individuals, families, groups, and communities. The Center's purpose is to engage legal, legislative and cultural issues by implementing an effective strategy of advocacy, education and litigation to ensure that those rights are protected under the law. First codified in the English but there only applying to , this right was enshrined in fundamental laws of several American states during the Revolutionary era, including the 1776 and the.

United States Bill of Rights

After ratification by the ninth state, New Hampshire, followed shortly by Virginia, it was clear the Constitution would go into effect with or without New York as a member of the Union. He felt that his economic bill of rights would provide that equality.

Applying the Bill of Rights to state governments

Ratified: December 15, 1791 Seventh Article: The right of the People to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized. But these debates focus on the meaning of the amendments, not their inclusion.

The Bill of Rights: What Does it Say?

Three states did not complete action on the twelve articles of amendment when they were initially put before the states. The organization has participated in numerous cases before the Supreme Court, Federal Court of Appeals, Federal District Courts, and various state courts regarding freedom of religion and freedom of speech. Seventh Article: No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.
