If the Arab ever exercised any modicum of restraint, it was not because of any susceptibility he had to questions of right or wrong but because of the fear of provoking reprisals and vendetta. Peabody was charmed by the sketch, and she and Gibran exchanged a few letters. The vendetta, tha'r in Arabic, is one of the pillars of Bedouin society.

34 Outstanding Poems about Rain

The Byzantines to the west and the Persians to the east posed a constant threat to the north of the peninsula.

Mirror was written by Plath in 1961 but it was published posthumously, ten years later, as part of her collection of poetry Crossing the Water. When not showing off their equestrian skills and military prowess, they served as caravaneers to the long camel trains threading northward toward the Fertile Crescent, or westward to the Mediterranean.
