

Lancashire inquests, extents, and feudal aids. A.D. 1205-A.D. 1307

Chadwyck-Healey - Lancashire Inquests, Extents, and Feudal Aids

Description: -

-Lancashire inquests, extents, and feudal aids. A.D. 1205-A.D. 1307

-

Publications -- 48.Lancashire inquests, extents, and feudal aids. A.D. 1205-A.D. 1307

Notes: Microfiche reproduction of work originally published, [Manchester]: Record Society of Lancashire and Cheshire, 1903.

This edition was published in 1976

Filesize: 40.25 MB

Tags: #RobertGrelleyInfo

RobertGrelleyInfo

Elizabeth Bigod survived her husband, and appears to be the defendant in the following Chancery suit. Born bef 24 Aug 1283. Lancashire and Cheshire Record Society vol.

Lancashire Inquests, Extents, and Feudal Aids

Their son, Gilbert de Barton, succeeded to his grandmother's estates upon her death in 1222 Final Concords, pt. She married secondly Gilbert de Notton, a knight holding lands in Yorkshire under the honour of Pontefract, and in Lancashire under the Montbegons, whose eldest son William had married Edith de Barton's daughter and heir, Cecily. This collection has been preserved in the Harris Museum at Preston and in 2001 was the subject of further investigation and research by John Moores University, Liverpool.

Lancashire Inquests, Extents, and Feudal AIDS

The loftier hills, as their names everywhere show, except between Pendle and Whernside, still remained in British hands long after the vales and the lower eminences had been wrested from them. Robert Aske of Aughton, Yorks, Heir of Aughton was born circa 1510. Settlement patterns and ways of life do not appear to have been greatly affected by the Roman occupation, nor by their departure.

Library Card Catalogue (links to soft copies)

There are no traces to be seen of any preceding structures, though the Grimsargh Hall of Norman times may have occupied the same site. It descended to a grandson, Francis Bindloss, who built the existing Lower Brockholes Hall now a farm in 1634.

Lancashire Inquests, Extents, and Feudal Aids

Albans and The Mother of Roger Williams by G. I, Appendix: The Pipe Rolls. During the thirteenth century there was only one house recognised as the demesne house of the Manor of Brockholes.

Lancashire Inquests, Extents, and Feudal Aids

Transactions of the Lancashire and Cheshire Antiquarian Society TLCAS , vol. Roger Gernet 1252 William de Grimesarche p. Yorks to sister Avise for an additional share of Ellerton-on-Derwent, co.

Robert Grelley Info

The major archaeological legacy came from deep beneath the surface of the riverbed. However, by the time of the Preston Rural District Council Overcrowding Survey of 1936, the cottage had been condemned. Situated alongside the Ribble and astride the road running north, and by an established ford crossing, it was strategically important and within reach of the fort at Ribchester.

Related Books

- Chang Zheng ji.
- Qawānīn al-rusūm al-qadā'iyah wa-rusūm al-tawthīq wa-al-shahr - mu'allagan 'alayā bi-al-sharḥ wa-ahk
- Traditional ceramics of Guanajuato - April-May, 1991 : Mexican Cultural Institute
- Interimperiale Handel des Britischen Weltreiches seit der Ottawa-Konferenz 1932.
- Préludes; szimfónikus költemény 3. sz.