Perry Trethowan's investigation reacquaints him with his odd and offputting aunts, uncles and cousins, and slowly forces him to take the role in the family that his family had always expecting him to take.

There, Lawrence and Rippey spotted a couple of boys and talked to them before once again getting back into the car and leaving, arriving some time later at the edge of some woods near Tackett's home in Madison. The sheer power of her body dressed totally in leather with her muscular frame that made him look so ridiculous filled him with utter terror! These adorable sewer dwellers can chew through pipes, floors, walls, you name it. You must all be the best fighters in the whole world.

Perry, a young police inspector, is the only family member to have broken the tradition.
