Transcription: Washington's Inaugural Address

And I shall derive great satisfaction from a co-operation with you, in the pleasing though arduous task of ensuring to our fellow Citizens the blessings, which they have a right to expect, from a free, efficient and equal Government. Double-spacing, italics and other formatting will be lost, but this will not affect the evaluation of your application. In other words: calm down, everyone, he's not doing anything wrong here.

And to avoid disputes respecting the ages of any of these Negroes, they are to be taken to the Court of the County in which they reside, and the judgment thereof, in this relation shall be final; and a record thereof made; which may be adduced as evidence at any time thereafter, if disputes should arise concerning the same.

Fulfill George Washington's last wish — a national university

Interestingly, he doesn't mention relations with Native Americans at all in the farewell address. Sprague took full advantage of the offer to the extent of about 1500 letters. In 1912, Rosenwald was asked on the Board of Directors of Tuskegee Institute, a position which he used for the rest of his life.

George Washington and the Constitution

His initial rejection of that power ironically ensured that he was the proper person to wield it. Having thus imparted to you my sentiments, as they have been awakened by the occasion which brings us together, I shall take my present leave; but not without resorting once more to the benign parent of the human race, in humble supplication that since he has been pleased to favour the American people, with opportunities for deliberating in perfect tranquility, and dispositions for deciding with unparelled unanimity on a form of Government, for the security of their Union, and the advancement of their happiness; so his divine blessing may be equally conspicuous in the enlarged views, the temperate consultations, and the wise measures on which the success of this Government must depend.
