Virtually all aspects of a city are run by players! It is a bit of writing I keep working on to entertain myself. They interact directly with the game and the players, and are a significant part of many players' lives.

Kick it old school with these text

Or if you do you better save an offline Archive of it cuz It won't be up for long. However, certain site features may suddenly stop working and leave you with a severely degraded experience.

Internet Slang

You could carry around a class in your inventory. First and foremost, because you can do more in one of our MUDs than in almost any game out there.
