In turn, a longer downturn could push many small and medium enterprises from illiquidity to insolvency, and the poverty rate could rise even higher as more people suffer income losses. This allowed the Central Bank to reduce policy rates by 250 basis points and the reserve ratio by 300 basis points over the first seven months of 2020.

Handling labour migration in Sri Lanka

Bilesha Weeraratne is a Research Fellow at the Institute of Policy Studies of Sri Lanka. The time is ripe for a few well-implemented measures to increase labour market flexibility and boost growth. In the National Policy for Decent Work and the National Plan of Action for Decent Work endorsed by the Government identifies the existing decent work deficits in the areas of Employment Promotion, Rights at Work, Social Protection and Social Dialogue and sets out policies to overcome them, while the national plan of action converts policy into action. These two documents together set out the direction that Sri Lanka needs to take in implementing economic and social development, without sacrificing one for the other. It creates a blueprint for action. The Decent Work Agenda requires sustained commitment and collaboration of social partners for achieving its objectives and the National Plan of Action for Decent Work is an effective tool towards achieving this.

Labour Code of Sri Lanka

ILO will provide technical assistance to the Ministry of Labour and Trade Union Relations to develop a Road Map for implementation of the National Plan of Action for Decent Work and will work with its constituents in moving forward the Decent Work Agenda in order to give full effect, in law and in practice, to the ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work ensuring decent working conditions for all Sri Lankans. Informal employment is high almost everywhere except in the Western Province WP. Now roughly about the same amount is to be spent on a labor market observatory for the higher education system.

Health, Education & Labour

Labour market governance and working conditions is one of the key priorities and is considered an important prerequisite in ensuring decent work for all. If a mercantile holiday or Poya day falls on a constitutional holiday or what is habitually a full or half weekly holiday, a substitute holiday does not need be granted in lieu.
