Canadian vs. Parisian French

Shadow, I warn you in advance that I could be full of shit. I took the liberty to place only men under the first caption and only women under the second caption.

Rapprochement between Franco

French is the mother tongue of 4 per cent of the Ontario population 527,690 people , and the first official language of 4. Institutional support is defined as the degree of control a linguistic minority commands over the institutions needed to ensure the survival of their language and culture in dominant majority group settings Bourhis and Landry 2012.

The Bilingual U.S.

Thus, the more open the discourse on ethnocultural diversity appears, the more political representation of immigrants is favoured within bodies of the francophonie. This geographic dispersion broke the isolation of many Franco-American communities and hastened assimilation. As far as French in the US: In Louisiana, the two dialects are Cajun a twangy variation on Acadian, since that's where the Cajun's originated and Creole the dialect spoken by the descendents of slaves.

Why Franco

The Bullet of Providence: An Acadian Timeline 2.0

Though minor relative to total provincial populations, there were net demographic losses of Anglophones in Ontario, New Brunswick and Quebec, while net losses of Francophones occurred in Quebec and Ontario. What is today called Canada just happens to include both the historical homeland of the Canadiens French Canadians and the Acadiens Acadians.

FMC Reception Capacity Typology

Damage occurs over time, little by little, when the views of the above few are conveyed in a very public forum — and they begin to slowly shape public psyche and perceptions.

Canadian provinces

First, this article is about the French Canadian nation, not the Quebec nation. And Quebecois are just the french that inhabit Quebec.
