UC Berkeley Art Practice

The museum also includes the Pacific Film Archive that specializes in documentation and providing information for films. Students first studied fabrication techniques with plant fibers originated in primitive habitats.

Welcome!

Foods of the Americas Explore our annual exhibit filled with colorful displays of foods first cultivated by ancient Mayan, Aztec, and Incan cultures. Over the course of four hours Nkanga sits at one of the tables surrounded by various pictures and materials and asks participants to sit with her, while she engages them in discussion and invites them to partake in her variation of a kolanut ceremony. This Privacy Policy describes what information we gather on the Website and how we use that information.

Museums and collections

Maybe art cannot change the world, but art can contribute to changing the world, together with others sciences, and art can definitely change our perspective on the world. In her series Dispersal, she explores the myriad forms through which plants reproduce.
