The source of uranium within hydrothermal uranium deposits of the Motianling mining district, Guangxi, South China

The Sanqiliu and Sanqisi uranium deposits are hosted within brittle—ductile shear zones in the Motianling uranium district of the central SCB Fig. Rocks deforming by crystal-plastic processes are essentially inviscid and any pockets of fluid in the deforming rock mass will be constantly squeezed by the pressure of the rocks around them Connolly and Podladchikov, 1998; Connolly and Podladchikov, 2004; Connolly, 2010. Michael Thurman, Imma Ferrer, George Aiken, and Karl G.
