Bible: The Sole Rule of Faith?

Are there any direct statements to the effect that, with the death of the apostles, Scripture will become the sole and sufficient infallible rule of faith and practice for each believer? This Creed, as it respects any of the questions now at issue in the Church, is practically useless. From universal analogy every community among men has the living judge as well as the written law, and the one would be of no value without the other.

Full text of divine rule of Faith and practice, or, A defence of the Catholic doctrine that Holy Scripture has been, since the times of the Apostles, the sole divine rule of faith and practice to the Church, against the dangerous errors of the authors of the Tracts for the Times and the Romanists, in which also the doctrines of the Apostolical succession, the Eucharistic sacrifice, etc. are fully discussed.

What does the Romish Church declare to be the infallible rule of faith and practice? Ought we to believe that he is created? Whitcomb also discovered that this Church was not to be a disjointed body, but a unified body.
