Second homes dot the landscape, though infrequently occupied. To 'think through' the question, the situation penser la situation of 'the text' in our contemporary culture, is to engage in a whole number of theoretic and pragmatic fields whose own limits or methodological integrity, whose own implication of textual authority or repudiation of the canonic, are unclear.

Does such reading have any natural place in our present psychological and social modes? The sociology, the psychology or, at a fundamental remove, neuro-physiology , the social-psychology—the awkwardness, the overlap in our rubrics being themselves symptomatic—of reading, of our relations to texts, remain rudimentary. La lectura, ponderando su importancia en la sociedad por su merma en la actualidad.
