Panzerrohre zu Pflugscharen : Zwangsarbeit Wiederaufbau Sozialisierung Wetzlar, 1939

Wetzlar 1939-1956 Marburg: Verlag Arbeiterbewegung und Gesselschaftswissenschaft, approx. Dpcamps is great, don't get me wrong, but it seems that Ukrainian and Soviet resources for Forced Laborers is lacking. A friend of mine had done a lot of research on the slave workers of russian und ukrainian background in Wetzlar.

I wish there were better resources for information. This forum, the entire site is fascinating to me. Hello, indeed a very difficult search.

Forced Labor workers near Ehringshausen?

Sauberer Exemplar ohne Stempel und Anstreichen. You may also wish to fill in that form and see whether they come up with any information: in German, but I'm sure you can translate this. A friend of mine had done a lot of research on the slave workers of russian und ukrainian background in Wetzlar.

My grandmother was sent to Germany and ended up working for a family as a nanny and maid. Is there a connection between the Russian and your Grandmother and these firms? I'll be seeing her next month, I guess I'll get out a pad and paper and bring a map of Germany. I have researched diligently in primary sources trying to find clues - and here is an entire treasure of knowledge.
