Code of Arbitration for Sport, Commentary, Cases, and Materials, by Despina Mavromati and Matthieu Reeb

These rules are widely used and cover all aspects of the arbitral process. Mandatory arbitration in the consumer and employment setting is very different from arbitration clauses in contracts between two businesses or a company and a union; in those cases, the parties have voluntarily negotiated as equals and knowingly agreed to arbitrate disputes between them. One well-known American company that has introduced this type of internal dispute-resolution procedure is Anheuser-Busch.
