Behind the Scenes of The Immigrant Artist Biennial: Interview with Katya Grokhovsky

Personally, I believe the term like all labels is less significant than the individual themselves.

The future of gallery and visual arts education

I think it is different for different curators. We are planning to end 2019 with a Benefit Gala to celebrate the 2020 launch with a final fundraising push. She has traveled abroad to Italy, Scotland, Ireland, France, United Kingdom, Netherlands and Belize to study art and has done artist residencies at Vermont Studio Center, Kimmel Hardening Nelson Center for the Arts, Ragadale, The Traveling Museum and Hospitalfield Arts.
