'I've never seen or heard of attacks': scientists baffled by orcas harassing boats

No whales were caught, and in June 2000, the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals sided with whaling opponents and suspended the hunt.

BBC NEWS

John Forde, who runs a whale-watching operation in Tofino, told the Associated Press on Sunday that he had no clue how the boat could have sunk. This amendment will permit more small nations to join—but more anti-whaling nations could join or rejoin, too. Despite these dangers, the North Atlantic right whale population had been recovering gradually for the three decades leading up to 2010.

Coinciding with the IWC meeting, Mexico, French Polynesia, and Papua New Guinea each declared their national waters to be whale sanctuaries. This is the Labrador coast.

Best Whale Watching Spots in the United States

Six Flags bought the former SeaWorld site at Aurora, Ohio, in January 2001, without the three resident orcas, who were moved to other SeaWorld locations. It has wide open straits, tight passes, deeply carved trenches and sloping shallow banks. The Japanese delegation came into the 54th annual meeting of the IWC hoping that hosting the meeting in Shimonoseki, the historical home of the Japanese whaling fleet, would coincide with lifting the international moratorium on commercial whaling which has been in effect since 1986.
