Old Maps of Eccleshall, Staffordshire

It was greatly enlarged in 1835 to hold 300.

About Us

First Lord of the Treasury and Minister for the Civil Service. By the turn of the 19th century the Haynes family were diversifying adding building, joinery, carpentry and undertaking to their trade skill set. The site for the new building, on Turnhurst Road at Chell, was purchased from Thomas Kirkham and Robert Williamson.

Drawing Eccleshall, Staffordshire

Projecting modern shop-front on left-hand side. She was unclear exactly how they connected to her and so she loaned me the impressively weighty Victorian tome to see if I could discover more.

Photo of Eccleshall, Johnson Hall 1900

Right-hand section has moulded stone or stucco cornice and C19 hooded doorcase with hood supported on slender shafts. After the succession of in 1714, the arrangement of a commission of Lords of the Treasury as opposed to a single Lord High Treasurer became permanent.

GENUKI: Eccleshall, Staffordshire

Mrs Jane Buckley, of Garmelow, Mrs Mary Johnson, of Pershall, and many smaller owners have estates here. Seeing the front door blocked up and wondering if the buildings had been altered to form just the one property, I titled this drawing as far as number 50 Bloomgate which was clearly written above the pend alleyway , rather than guess. We use the term Partner to refer to a Member of the LLP.

List of prime ministers of the United Kingdom

I love how there are endless glimpses of it alongside Lanark chimney pots and roofscapes.

GENUKI: Eccleshall, Staffordshire

It is an absolute joy for all concerned when some new find triggers the recollection of something buried deep in the recesses of her mind; or, because she knows I am working on her tree, she suddenly recalls some other fact or story. After living 24 years in the area you can imagine that the hardest part was saying goodbye to friends and all those people that make up the fabric of the day — the chap collecting the trolleys at Tesco, the kind Pharmacist at Morrisons, the family who ran our local corner shop and so on... Drawing helps me to connect with a place and people so I began my first Scottish street with the town nearest to our home.

Drawing Eccleshall, Staffordshire

The cost has never been estimated at more than approximately £13500 in total, the majority of which is being funded by generous contributions from 2 organisations, who are contributing £5,000 and £3,000 to the project delivery, and the architect who is not charging for his time.
