The ship, the Marie Joseph, on its maiden voyage to Hawaii, was lost at sea in March 1843 near the Strait of Magellan, taking with it the bishop, six priests, one seminarian, seven brothers and nine sisters. I'm sure some of it was like that, but I can't help but assume the play is as historically accurate as Disney's Pocahontas.

H.M. Queen Kaahumanu

Kamehameha sacrificed Imakakaloa at heiau, Pakini.

The missionaries were Father Alexis Bachelot, Father Patrick Short and Father Abraham Armand, and three religious brothers. He would later prove to be a vital supporter of the growing Catholic mission of Hawaii. It also most importantly includes personal development and identity exploration.

Christian Missionaries in Hawaii

In 1957, Bishop Sweeney convened the first diocesan synod. Her zealous conversion to Christianity by American missionaries, led to serious changes in our young country.
