

Autonomy and long-term care

Oxford University - Long Term Care Centres: an introduction

Description: -

- Autonomy (Philosophy)
 - Autonomy (Psychology) in old age.
 - Aged -- Long term care -- Moral and ethical aspects
 - Autonomy and long-term care
 - Autonomy and long-term care
- Notes: 3
This edition was published in 1993

Filesize: 32.34 MB

Tags: #Perceptions #of #long

Supporting Patient Autonomy Is Critical to Improving Health

Archives of General Psychiatry , 54 , 113—116.

Are there limits to a patient's autonomy in making health care decisions?

Once fully informed, patients can then make a choice. Competence to refuse life-sustaining treatment. When this view of autonomy is used, the focus shifts from an abstract concept of autonomy that virtually excludes long-term care residents to one that enables residents to continue to live in ways that are consistent with their personal values and past lifestyles ; ; .

Autonomy, cost are key in decisions on long

Many are coping with an increasing number of physical and mental limitations.

Long Term Care Centres: Making space for ageing

In these analyses, each autonomy dimension was regressed separately on each of the four sets of variables identified in the model. The principle of justice encompasses the fair and equitable distribution of resources.

Are there limits to a patient's autonomy in making health care decisions?

If nursing home personnel focus too heavily on negative autonomy and provide too little Coiropy 1990 warns that tHs could lead to a laissez- aire attitude with harmful consequences. Ethical conflicts in the management of homecare.

Autonomy And Long Term Care PDF Book

Patients may be quite knowledgeable about their illness, but they usually do not know the whole story. Patient wellbeing and autonomy go hand-in-hand. They experience fewer opportunities to engage in customary activities, fewer contacts with the outside world, and less privacy than they enjoyed outside the nursing home Atchley, 1994.

Related Books

- Skin disease in old age
- North Atlantic nudibranchs \(Mollusca\) seen by Henning Lemche - with additional species from the Medi
- Community social work, older people and informal care - a romantic illusion?
- Palabra sobre palabra
- Nilalukal akalunnu