Transposing Chorales Students are assigned different voices of a notated chorale. Students may elect to concentrate on an instrument that is not their primary focus guitar workshop, string workshop, percussion workshop or keyboard workshop , or to participate in an ensemble that augments their study on their primary instrument mixed ensemble, choir, or jazz ensemble. This is mentioned only because for some exercises, it would be beneficial to incorporate a speaking component in conjunction with playing as a means of ensuring that the student is fully engaged in the mental process.
